Good morning Ilan,

It was a pleasure working with you on all these shipments!

It was very helpful that you were really on top of things all the time and that you answered my questions immediately.

I am also very happy that the shipment of the masks went so very smoothly. Between you and me: shipments from and for our archeological department are always very delicate and complicated and it is a good for you that everything went so well with Haim.....

Besides all this, you are a very pleasant person to work with and I am looking forward working with you on more projects.

Have a good day!
